

Books & Personal Computers

Students should buy at least one text book for each subject; if affordable possess a notebook or a desktop personal computer. The teacher can demand the student to produce proof for possessing at least one text book for their subject.