REVALUATION CIRCULAR CUM FEE NOTIFICATION

Examination: M.Tech II Semester (R21&R25) Regular Examinations, September 2026

10 November 2026

CIRCULAR

As per the communication received from JNTUK, the revaluation procedure has been revised and will be implemented for all examination notifications issued from January 2026 onwards. The revised procedure is as follows:

- All answer scripts for which revaluation is applied will be re-evaluated.
- If the variation in external marks is less than 20% of the total external marks (14 marks), the average of the two evaluations shall be considered as the final marks.
  - Example: If V1 = 25 and V2 = 20, the variation is less than 14 marks. Therefore, the final marks = (25 + 20) / 2 = 22.5, which will be rounded off to 23 marks.
- If the variation in external marks is more than 20% of the total external marks (14 marks), the answer script will be evaluated by a third evaluator, and the average of all three evaluations shall be considered as the final marks.
  - ✓ Example: If V1 = 25, V2 = 40, and V3 = 30, then the final marks = (25 + 40 + 30) / 3 = 31.67, which will be rounded off to 32 marks.

Important Note: Students are advised to apply for revaluation only after careful consideration. Once a subject is taken up for revaluation, the marks awarded in the first valuation shall become void, and the marks obtained after the revaluation process shall be treated as final. Consequently, the final result may show an increase in marks, no change in marks, a decrease in marks, or even a change from Pass to Fail status.

In view of the above procedure, students may apply for revaluation of theory subjects only.
